Monitoring critical wet stock data

Accepting and processing data automatically from various sources, Torex Wetstock Management-BA provides statistical analysis for:

- Leak detection: Minimise financial and environmental losses.
- Temperature monitoring: View accurate temperatures of fuel deliveries.
- Tank gauge polling: Optimise tanker scheduling with greater efficiency.
- Short delivery: Identify and resolve any disparities.
- Water content: Respond quickly with early detection capabilities.
- Over dispensing: Detect problems quickly so engineers can realign pumps.

Automatic data extraction ensures wet stock is managed closely every day, providing forecourt retailers with peace of mind.

Teams of analysts transmit received data through sophisticated analytical tools that assess the data in minute detail. This analysis leads to early detection of losses and leaks. The direct net effect of this could save the retailer clean-up costs and the cost of lost fuel.

Torex Wetstock Management-BA is a must for any forecourt with tanks more than 20 years old. For a small monthly expense, our solution reduces requirements for tank testing, which leads to a rapid return on investment.

Torex Wetstock Management-BA supplies information to the forecourt retailer with an easy-to-use Web portal, as well as paper and faxed reports.

Product benefits

The power of Torex Wetstock Management-BA is illustrated by controls implemented at some of the UK's largest fuel operators.

- One customer uses Torex Wetstock Management-BA to monitor stock daily and to detect and resolve problems quickly.
- An Internet tank-gauge polling service allows one large retailer to monitor and schedule deliveries, ensuring fuel is always readily available.
- Another petroleum seller uses Torex Wetstock Management-BA to extract wet stock data on an hourly basis with accurate, up-to-date analysis.

Torex Wetstock Management-BA also:

- Accepts data from a variety of sources, including telephone touch pads.
- Provides flexible reporting, utilising text messages and emails to report problems.
- * Decreases large direct costs, such as tank testing
